

Eternal Consciousness in the Matrix (Excerpt)

No one can know or understand life in physicality's measures, designated "THE MATRIX" through mental relating outside of God. This is not possible because instinctive "lifecycles" are in absoluteness of eternal enlightens. Exaction testimonies of existence can only be documented through God's Word, which can only be comprehended in eternal awareness granted in the spirit or mind. It is this awareness that distinguishes what God has mirrored in reflecting manifest ontology (existence). Total physical limitations of humans' functions are scripturally documented. The Creator originates and controls everything, thus, nothing materializes aside from His granting of such. This is firmly verified in fallen humankind's separated position from God; identified as spiritual death or the opposite of life. This state of separation from God renders humans' measured capacity to communicate physically confined to things visually observed yet such are never vitally comprehended spiritually.

Hence, humankind has no capability of eternal communions in the matrix, as such exhibits God's plan and purpose (I Corinthians 2:11). Human perceptions function in the lowest level of evolutionary processes of documentations. Matrix elementally consciousness is rooted in, and feeds on familiarity resonations of past experiences retained momentarily as only gateways imported for flexible expressions of nostalgias. Thence, it's materialized imprecisions of possessive versions construe of its processes, as to its secessions of will in determination. In its viewing, only past, present and future measure; exhibiting visually, as though it is virtually its consistence. In this "cognizance," appreciative awareness never meet expectations directed in completion but lingers in secessions of sequences dictated by its perceived environs. Materialize consciousness purports to thrive on its perceived useful employment and visual-abiding scenery's either preparation or inclination of these roles depicting in sole identification with its physical factors.

Physical functioning consciousness' entire identity representations are based on visually examined virtual assessments for genuineness of who, what, when, where, why and how contents are in matrix perceptions. In its habitual routine observation, dominant depictions of its life are in its discriminating ego that endeavors to narrate its functions solely in its misperceived larger and brighter individuality. Thus, it's learning and gathering knowledge resonate solely in its confined conclusion of life, in belief that its boundaries encompass the zenith of intelligence. Yet, its terrain is not determinately confident in inconsistencies that do not afford enough certainty to adequately address challenges of life in its own environs. Thereof, it requisites guidance and support in security, rather than longing and lingering, void of complete freedom in pre-determined receptive authority. The advent of this level of confidence is conscientiously awakened transcendent beyond mundane life's scope; recognized as reality that is in fact in captivity of its secular thoughts, emotions and social roles, but specifically its predesigned assortments.

Under the seeming aversive effects of sequencing moments, profound desire for freedom and truth arises in the search for paths leading to reassurances in its territorial intentions. Consciousness and alertness becomes resolute in scriptural realized truth about who and what assigned missions are. Predetermined absorptions are independently affirmed prior to the matrix's rules, leaders, traditions, authorities and physical characterizations. Hence, its discoveries abide in theistic purpose beyond misconstrued, acceptable, "ready-made," second-hand theories or explanations dependent on flexible opinions through "acquired" knowledge and experience from creaturely observations. Physical indulgences embarked on originated journeys falter at every level of their so viewed creature/creation's fledging control. Misaligned consciousness apropos self-control, overly roots fear rather than hope or reward, as it malfunctions repute, as opposed to operate collectedly within regards to entities superior to it.

Such illusory contemplations, however, merely produce temporary resonations, based on inhered suppressions, in that it's certified resultant maintenance requires constant efforts. As the degree of endeavors decline, the overpowering desires, anger and emotions arise, causing even more frustration. Conversely, realization of actuality can be only scripturally imputed, which causes awakening unto eternal awareness that literally affirms what is absolutely necessary to understand matrix distinctions in its operations thereof. Ultimate focus is solely through Christ according to what manifestly, indeed dwell eternally in Him (Ephesians 3:11). Such are in knowledge of eternal mindset conformed to and informed through His word as the central theme of the matrix's existence glorifying God. Attempts to separate eternal essence into distinctions of diverse operations immediately induces confusion in understanding God's purpose. Simply stated, God is the sole determination of operations in the sphere of the matrix's functioning.

It is utter important to demarcate what living in eternal awareness of what is manifested in the matrix really is: namely, βίος (vee•os) and ζωή (zo•ee); both translated "living' or "life." As such are purposed in God's decree, Βίος (Vee•os) refers to the physical life and all that is associated with it, as far as it being the object, aim and purpose of our existence. However, eternal consciousness transcends in the essence of completions of all realized in eternality (Ephesians 3:18; Colossians 2:10). Although there are the induced physical processes manifested yet in physical life needs and its basic requirements (I Timothy 5:8); eternal consciousness functions are scripturally categorized as prioritized rather than its subordinate occupation (Colossians 3:2). Thus, the arena of eternality is prioritized over physicality as the abode of sustainable life and central relation on the basis of the richness of viable inheritance (Ephesians 1:18).

Eternal consciousness overrules visually prone creature resolutions and/or resonations that strive in so viewed prosperous circumstances. It is this transcendent comprehension that solely imbues dependency of faith that is exuded through threatening times (Hebrews 10:32-39). It focuses in on God's purpose by faith as the key to spiritual growth because such an awareness continuously serves to place the allures and threats of the world into their proper perspective (Hebrews 11:24-29). Transcendent experiences entrench belief in God's Word, as it's unfolding of gloomy, desperate potentials are the most spiritually rewarding.

Eternal consciousness' focus is in essence actualized existence's abode positioned in the Heavens' orb. The security of this enlightenment transcends so viewed inevitability of physical life's processes in the matrix's so viewed "self-control," which is not inherited in it but ingrained in its suppressive recognition and understanding of existence. This prospect visions self-control in physicality consciousness' identification of forms creating actions through functions of manifested process capacities' visual compositions of determinants. Conversely, actualized control does not progress on the basis of physicality's orders as it is in pre-designed and pre-assigned eternal purpose: how, why, when and what transpires. Nothing exists self-controlled in the matrix void of the transcendent external necessity of theistic authority's utilization of eternal purpose subjections. Hence, matrix manifestations are transitorily reflective, yet their inability never stimulate creation's lasting or permanent attainment.

Completion in absolute is the pinnacle of peace in revelations of eternal consciousness. The most important characteristic attribute of this measure of comprehension is eternal alertness' resistance of the present moment's presumed existence in realizing its state of consciousness in an entirely new dimension; revealing a completely new perspective of the assertion of manifestation from actualization. Eternal unity belies the controversies of visuals sourced from the matrix's physical visions, as though such are representative of their insistence on creature/creaturely impartations. Predetermined discovery envelopes constriction beyond contingences of rescinding pressures confined to physical hopes and formulations. Eternal awakening is summarily afforded in understanding and experiencing beyond the physical processes of the matrix's misconstrued control over circumstances. Such illusory perceptions seemingly induce their requisites for determinate explorations' insertions.

Functionalities structured in creature alliances implode as they requisite performance of their components' operands to align in secularly directed peacefulness. Everything abides eternally in completion of actualize consciousness that does not contemplate merely in visuals of but equates in transcendence of what physical/secular circumstances ascribe. Internally, the matrix ascribes that all exploits devise whatever is visualized such that they delineate superficial supervening rather than eternal efficient intervening. Consciousness in visual depictions relates in physical/secular experiences solely unified in what exhibits potentials asserted of tactic processes i.e., ploys of transitional forms in-crease (I Timothy 6:5). Eternality exacts its consciousness' in actuality of the interminable realm, i.e., in everlastingly refreshments' ultimate realization. Eternal occurrences extracts more than merely events interspersed along within courses but culmination in definite joy and glory.

This convention is in stark contrast to the matrix's alluded inner behavior that accords that its residency is determinable in its physical actions' arena. Eternal consciousness' onset of scriptural knowledge of God's purpose exudes the confidence that there has never been problems of disasters or heartaches that were not pre-determinately subsumed in God's eternal decree prior to their manifestation in time/space nor has there ever been situations not purposed beforehand (II Corinthians 4:8-9; II Timothy 2:3-4). Eternally conceptualized comprehension adequately provides sufficient contributions to spiritual growth's actuality. In progression, God's Word is determinately deposited in illuminations of confidential edification (I Timothy 6:6). Actualized viewing requires not only knowledge beyond that which is visually discerned but faith driven reception of what such internalizes as eternal deposits. This necessitates precious truthfulness, completely and unreservedly in completion.

Eternal consciousness enables confidentially abiding in the matrix's contemplation. Relief in actualize doctrinal principles is essentially the central elements of knowledge in the true sense of spiritual growth and development in life functioning. The progress of walking in this truth exudes the stabilizing secure foundation capable of withstanding the ferocious daily onslaught of challenging confinements (I Thessalonians 3:3-5; c.f. I Peter 5:8-10). To "fight the good fight," requisites such illumination inculcated as actualize truth held fast in imparted faith objectives (I Timothy 6:12); in order to commence spiritually functioning in total unconditional committed trust in God's predetermined purpose. Thus, sustenance is solely through undaunted trust in eternity's completion, as all things transpire through God's grace; beginning with salvation's actualized enactment in pre-assignment of God's eternal choice (Ephesians 2:8-9).

In order to "through endurance, may run the race clearly set before us," it is important to daily be "looking unto Jesus, the originator and completer of the faith" (Hebrews 12:1-2). Here, the Greek word ἀφορῶντες (ahph•or•on•dehs) literally rendered "to fix on," "turn to" or "look to," infers to direct attention away from all visuals to eternal objectives. Hence, faith energizes to realization focusing upon eternal intentions; to maximize its facilitation and production as absoluteness in completion. "Nourishment" of God's Word provides distinct understanding characterization of determinism in the matrix's functions. Entrance into this enlightenment extracts eternal occurrences in manifestation of spiritual principal progression that entails continuous interaction as eternal consciousness nurtures beyond visual adversity. As trials inflict daily challenges, such ever readily induce faithfulness by identification in eternally accepted purposefulness, as entrusted to predetermination of all things according to God's Will.

Spiritual development exhibits primarily and fundamentally, eternal trust accomplished in its principles. Cursory exposure to the matrix's shadow whims reflects ineptness of useless determinism. Accordingly, scriptural principles of actualization are not laden by any reservation, utilizing eternal effectuations according to what presently abide; even in matrix's challenging situations (Hebrews 11:17-19). Inquiries incurred in matrix viewing illustrate mirror procession spectacles as though such are commendably characteristic in origins, progressions and unconditional completion. Overlooked conscriptions inquire in scriptural postures of eternal consciousness that its representations are merely reflections of processes God designed for such. Indefatigable matrix refractions in its microcosmic, applicative visions of experiences are solely allege premise of actualized determinations, visually contained in internalization of occurrences; sequentially, purportedly renderings past, present and future. Even as such are mentally influential, none are inevitable of viable potentials. Conversely, eternal consciousness evinces all distinctly structured in originations and culminations in scriptural revelation of eternity's effectuation dominated in God's decreed mindset. It is from this comprehension that the graciousness of God grants realization of all previously actualized according to His eternal purpose rather physical progressions of processes.
